SEN. POTTER REPORTS

From Washington

MAYFLOWER II, famous replica of the ship which brought the Pilgrims to Plymouth Rock, may sail the St. Lawrence Seaway, calling at Michigan ports. Now being discussed in London is my invitation to bring the historic vessel into Lake waters.

When I presented the idea to Captain Alan Villers, world-famed skipper who sailed the Mayflower across the Atlantic, and Mr. Warwick Charlton, founder of the project, both were enthusiastic. "Certainly the magnificent gesture of friendship which you have extended to the people of Michigan," Charlton reads, "should be completed by bringing the Mayflower II into the industrial and spiritual heartland of America."

Such a voyage would focus world attention on the Seaway and the new Mackinac Bridge. As the Mayflower II anchored at Detroit, Port Huron, Saginaw Bay, Muskegon, Benton Harbor and other ports, she would be a spectacular tourist attraction all the way. Many of her original crew have departed and I hope that an experienced Great Lakes crew with a complement of Michigan Sea Scouts would be recruited to man her.

It's possible, but not probable, that plans could be worked out before the Seaway ices over. More likely is an early spring voyage. Right now Mayflower II is moored in New York harbor, attracting thousands of tourists, as she awaits formal transfer to Plymouth on Thanksgiving. Michigan tourist officials already are visualizing a series of pageants to greet the famous ship as she sails into our waters.

I expect to be in touch with Secretary of State Dulles on further plans.

CIVIL RIGHTS holds the Senate spotlight. Early and late, pros and cons, a quorum on the floor to prevent cuts from sidetracking the bill. We have moved cuts into our offices to catch forty winks between the long hours of work. Last week I served notice that unless Congress enacts an adequate civil rights bill, I will introduce legislation exempting from the draft any man of voting age who is presented from exercising his right to vote.

I see no decency and justice in asking a man to die for a country where he is not permitted to avail himself of the simple democratic privileges of the bill of rights. I told the Senate that if we do not accept this honest, straightforward obligation, we shall have repudiated everything America stands for in the eyes of a world beleaguered by hunger and oppression. We shall have betrayed those Americans of dark skin who pay taxes to support this Government and who gave their lives only a decade ago for these same principles.

Last week, with one foot on the plane to speak at the Capoe Centennial Celebration, I reported here on my proposed remarks. At the last minute, a long Saturday Senate session forced me to cancel the speech after the newsletter was in the mail. I suppose that won't be the first such incident during the civil rights talkathon.

JIMMY DURANTE put his nose in the Capitol door the other day to catch a portion of the debate. Other prominent Americans crowd the galleries, rubbing elbows with obscure folks, children, tourists and visitors from foreign lands, all rapidly listening to the historic civil rights discussions. Most of them have stood in long and patient lines waiting for gallery seats. The highest public interest in the issue we are resolving here is impressive.

MY TWO-YEAR FIGHT to make it illegal to speculate in onion futures, has been okayed by agriculture subcommittees of both House and Senate. Michigan's onion farmers, caught in a price squeeze brought on by manipulators who gamble and get rich on perishable onions, can look forward to relief before long. Onion speculation is a small business, and I use the word advisedly. Passage of my bill will put a stop to it.

LONG AGO a powerful Indian tribe from the Upper Peninsula attacked a Lower Peninsula tribe, killing all but seven warriors, and sent 1 to 15 men to the grave.

The seven followed the victors and, in the darkness, almost wiped out their conquerors. The slaughter was blamed on evil spirits and no Indian could be induced to live on the Manitowish thereafter.

Cadillac

Keeping Current... For Economy!

In the illustration above, you see a very happy man at a very wonderful moment.

The title, the keys and the car are his - and he's starting out on his first journey at the wheel. Of course, there's not much doubt as to why he decided to purchase a new Cadillac.

Like everyone else who selects the "car of cars", he did it to "keep current", so to speak, on all of Cadillac's new miracles of performance and beauty and comfort.

But coming to Cadillac, as he did, at this particular time of the year, we also suspect that he was inspired by the added motive of practicality.

For in addition to the normal Cadillac economies of modest purchase price, low operating cost and high resale value - Cadillac dealers are, at this time, reasonably prepared to make Cadillac ownership even more attractive than ever.

Because of the demand for used cars and because of increased production of the Cadillac car itself, the odds are that this gentleman received both a generous allowance on his previous car and prompt delivery of his new Cadillac.

Have you considered how wonderful it would be to step into a Cadillac of your own? Then, you should pay your dealer a visit - spend an hour on the highway in the luxury of Fleetwood coachcrafting - and get the facts for yourself.

You'll agree, we know, that the car is Cadillac - and the time is now!

How To Produce A Ghost Town

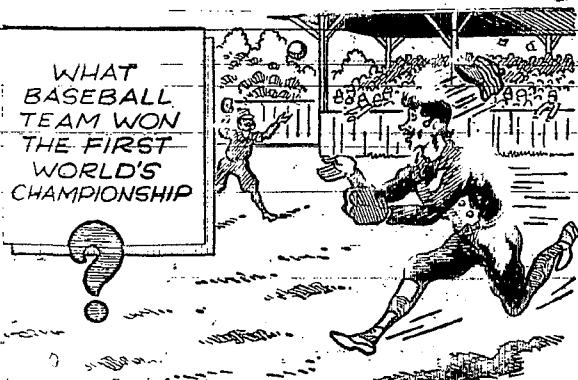

(The following appeared in the Progress Report of the Colorado Springs, Colorado Chamber of Commerce)

Results are certain for those working to create more "Ghost Towns" if these simple directions are followed either by accident or design. Hundreds of former thriving communities which are now silent ghost towns prove there is more truth than poetry to the simple statement "It could happen here."

Here are the methods proved by experience to guarantee bankruptcy, insanity, disappointment, suicides—all by products of ghost towns:

1. Tell everyone you meet that you never buy anything at home; the merchants are a bunch of crooks, robbers and cheats.
2. Belittle all efforts for community betterment—the people trying to do these things are secretly making a lot of money, want to "run things" and their way of doing things is all wrong anyway.
3. Never waste money by advertising or waste time trying to attract trade to the town—nobody reads the ads there is never anything in the paper, it's always late, and why should anyone want to come to town—it's a dead place.
4. Turn down all appeals for contributions; and do it in a nasty way so you won't be bothered again, because the money collected is eventually stolen by some "higher-ups" anyway.
5. Refuse to serve on all committees, have nothing to do with civic organizations—the Chamber of Commerce never does anything and is run by a bunch of dim-wits who want only to get their names before the public. All the city officials are in office to get a share of the graft.
6. Knock the town, knock its industries, knock the schools and churches, keep repeating the town is going to the dogs, things are better other places, to invest in such a dead place would be the height of foolishness—

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

August 16, 1934

The canoe carnival, the second one to be held in Grayling, was a grand success and enjoyed by hundreds of visitors from distant cities. Besides thousands from home and nearby places. The street parade that started the festivities and the sports and ball games that followed afforded a lot of excitement and pleasure right up to last Saturday night. The 8 o'clock starting hour Sunday morning saw a large number of the launching dock near the Cedar street bridge, ready to start on the 50-mile canoe trip down the AuSable. For several days the committee had been busy gathering "canoes" and boats for the occasion. This was made possible only by the generosity and fine cooperation of residents and resorters on the river, and also from local residents and a few from Roscommon. Ed Drier of Grand Rapids and Chicago, photographer and managing editor of Outdoor magazine, and S. L. A. Marshall, feature editor of the Detroit News—were with their motion picture cameras and they claim that they got some fine pictures. At Lincoln Lodge, autos were waiting to take people back to Grayling and the carnival was over, but will not soon be forgotten.

Jack Redhead drew the lucky assignment to guide the boat for Ed Drier, motion picture photographer, and Ben Wright, publicity writer for the E. M. T. A. And the latter were lucky to have Jack for their guide, for he knows every inch of the famous AuSable. Ernest Borchers was the guide for Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sitta, Detroit. The former is the western representative for the Block newspapers, published in Cincinnati, Cleveland, Kansas City, St. Louis and 20 other large cities.

The Bay City Times was well represented by Glenn MacDonald, sports writer, and Mr. Cook, state editor. These men are responsible for some very fine stories about the carnival and the boat race and after the event.

Unbeknown to her until it was too late to do anything about it, Miss Ella Hanson, watching the cruise from the pullover, was the victim of several feet of movie film as she registered many different facial expressions.

Kenneth Gothro, Arthur May, Bud Sorenson, Joseph Kessler and Jay Hobart took advantage of the special M. C. excursion rates and enjoyed the Detroit-Cleveland league baseball game in Detroit Sunday.

Sam Gust, who left two weeks ago to attend the Chicago Fair, left there Sunday and was in hiking to Spokane, Washington, where he will visit relatives.

Marlan, Skingley and Virginia and Walter Skingley, Mrs. Mary Wakeley, teacher at the Feldhauser school, is the local leader, and the club, which was formed a couple of years ago, has made good headway. The boys and girls report a very fine time at the camp. In all there were 500 boys and girls present, selected from 3,500 members enrolled in 25 counties north of the Oceana-Bay line. Clubs in this territory are engaged in all forms of club activities from handicraft to forestry. District champions were picked at the camp and winners in contests were awarded trips to the State fair.

Halford Kittelman arrived on Thursday from Chicago, to spend some time with Mrs. Kittelman and daughter Kathryn Ann at Wolff Den, Lake Margrethe.

Workers are busy painting the new AuSable bridge. It is a gray in color and makes a fine improvement. Workers are curbing the river bank above the bridge with stone. This too adds beauty to that attractive place. Highway commissioner Van Wagner promised that he would send a landscape artist here to lay out a plan for beautifying the bridge and approaches, but he hasn't come yet. Let's hope he will be here soon.

Post Commander Frank Decker, Alfred Hanson, Wilfred Laurant, Clarence Johnson, Charles Tinker, Jack McMillan, Sam Rasmussen, Harold Edwards, Otto Peterson and Mrs. Clara Leven attended the district meeting of the American Legion at West Branch Monday night.

Miss Olive LaVictoire of Bay City was guest of Richard Lovely at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lovely, last weekend. On her return Monday she was accompanied by Miss Veronica Lovely who will spend the remainder of the week in Bay City. The latter will be an attendant at the wedding of her brother Richard to Miss LaVictoire, which will take place in Bay City Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Wolff and children Jean and Janet, of South Bend, Ind., arrived Saturday to spend some time with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolff at Lake Margrethe.

We had the pleasure of a friendly visit from Jack VanCouvering, outdoor writer for the Detroit Free Press, Monday. He had been a guest at the Charles Merrill cabin on the South Branch river. With him were his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bergman of New York City, Rene Brand and Thomas Harris of Detroit. Mr. Bergman is the author of the book "Just Fishing". Mrs. Bergman also is famous as an expert fisherman.

Miss Eleanor Gorman entertained Bud Hunter of Jackson and Miss Marjorie Barnes of Port Huron, the first of the week. The party enjoyed a canoe trip down the river Monday, spending the night at the home of Miss Gorman's uncle, William Jensen, at the Durant place on the South Branch.

"Exactly what DOES happen to old soldiers? They certainly don't fade away!"

of Odd Fellows started out Saturday night on a fishing trip, bent on catching enough speckled beauties for their annual dinner, which was held last Tuesday night. Peter Borchers, Hugh Oaks, George Larson and Holger Peterson acted as scouts, advance guard, and commissary department, leaving here on Saturday morning for the Little Manistee River. The others, M. Simpson, C. O. McCullough, Al Roberts, James Olson, Peter Jensen, David Plagg and Phillip Hodges left Grayling in the evening and reached camp at about 11 o'clock, and started early the next morning and got their catch. The annual trout supper was held on Tuesday night at their banquet rooms with covers laid for about fifty. The epicures were Ambrose McClain, Hugh Oaks and George Crandall, and the banqueters thought that trout never tasted so good, and the fish was the best they had in their mouths. To put the finishing touches on a fine spread, James Olson passed the cigars.

The gravel road that is being built between Grayling and Portage Lake will probably be completed this week. This will make about three and a half miles of good road. Bicycle riders say that they can go to Portage almost as quickly as the autos.

Work at Grayling Woods Products company's plant is progressing finely. The part that was blown down by the windstorm a week ago yesterday was soon repaired. Mr. Harris, who is in charge of construction, says that no doubt they will be making turpentine by the middle of November.

J. Smith of Frederic has bought the McKay House and will remodel the old hostelry into a modern hotel, and move his family to "the only town on the map."

A. M. Lewis and family are made glad by the presence of his mother and sister from Brown City and Miss Carrie Graham of Newberry.

Master T. Callahan, six-year-old son of the proprietor of the Frederic House at Frederic, was run over by a horse during the carnival last week and is suffering now from a broken collar bone and a bruised leg. The little sufferer was brought to Mercy Hospital and is doing as well as circumstances permit.

New plate glass windows have been placed in the front of Sorenson's Furniture store.

Ralph Hanna, of Beaver Creek, was married to Miss Nora Foland at Jamestown, N. Dakota, on Wednesday, July 27th. The bride and groom are expected in Beaver Creek.

Beaver Creek
By Mrs. Almeda Sherwood

All the folks at the Beaver Creek Pure Oil Camp were given a treat last Thursday night. They gathered at the home of Mrs. C. M. Harney to view some slides taken by the Rev. and Mrs. Ed Crandall while in Europe. There were views of the Holy Land, the Garden of Gethsemane, of France, Italy and Germany. He also showed some slides taken by Mrs. Chester Johnston which she had not yet seen. They were pictures of all the things at the winter sports festival this year, and some of the Johnston baby, David Lee, at the time of his christening. Mrs. Harney and Mrs. Dewey Bonar served a very delicious luncheon. The Rev. Crandall's brother

Disaster Areas

A carton of fresh drinking water helps revive a dazed survivor of Hurricane Audrey at Camouche, La. Dairies would supply local residents with pure water. These will then be trucked into the stricken zone and distributed by the Red Cross or civil defense representatives.

Under the "Cooperating Dairy for Civil Defense" plan, the nearest dairy whose own water supply is not affected by the disaster will fill paper cartons with pure water. These will then be truck-
ed into the stricken zone and distributed by the Red Cross or civil defense representatives.

Among dairies participating:
Hunter's Aulsebrook Dairy. They can be identified by special "CD" labels on their route trucks.

THE COLOR IN OUR CHEEKS
There's an old story about the dapper Lord Chesterfield. A Frenchman, he appeared to be passing out of the great rooming him, when he was approached by the great philosopher, Voltaire.
"My Lord, I know you are a well-known judge. Tell me, who are the most beautiful the English or the French ladies?"
Looking about the lovely feminine faces displaying the liberal use of rouge and other artificial colorings, Lord Chesterfield said:
"Upon my word, I cannot tell. I am only no-connoisseur of paintlings."
Lord Chesterfield took no real stand as to English or French ladies, but we are led to believe that he appreciated a more natural look.
We at the store like the natural look... especially in our fresh produce departments. The fine coloring of this year's crop of tomatoes is an inspiration to any salad maker. The home grown varieties are juicy and flavorful and naturally... the price is right.
Talking about beautiful red color... have you had the pleasure of cutting into one of our choice watermelons? Many customers have remarked about their exceptional quality. The season is slipping by, so come on down today. We have them in juicy red quarters, halves or whole to fit your fancy.
We believe in service with a smile, so come in and get both.
Does your radio paint pictures? See you next week.

longer term bank loans have contributed substantially to the efficiency and progress of Michigan agriculture.

Mr. Hume reported that 382 of the 401 insured commercial banks in Michigan served agriculture by making farm loans during 1956.

"The shift to comparatively greater use of real estate credit for capital improvements and production purposes is indicated by estimates that over one-half of all farm real estate loans are now used for production and operating expenses, new machinery, improvement of livestock herds, and the like.

Michigan Mirror

MICHIGAN WILL SPEND $63,302,007 for mental health programs during the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The field always has been a battleground of controversy between Gov. Williams, who claims needs are not being met, and Republicans, who claim they are.

Republicans this year said the spending program for mental health will be $3,575,114 more than last year and places Michigan in a leading position in the country in mental health care.

Democrats retorted that the mental health department will have to stop taking new patients at Northville State Mental hospital and make their cutbacks if more money were not provided.

In their report, Republicans said the hospital received more than it did last year; that Hawthorn Center, at the hospital, will get $900,000, an increase of $260,000. After conferences, the plan to stop taking new patients at Northville was dropped, without any more money forthcoming.

The legislature provided $1,578,000 for the Lafayette Center in Detroit, training location for psychiatrists. This is an increase of $278,000.

To further their program of "brains instead of bricks," legislators turned over $225,000 to the neuro-psychiatric institute at Ann Arbor for research into the causes and treatment of mental disorders.

In addition, the mental health department received $30,000 for research and was authorized to set up an $85,000 training program with the help of Federal funds.

Republicans said they had added 575 new employees to the mental health system in two years.

A start was made on construction of a new hospital for mentally retarded children at Plymouth with an appropriation of $1,250,000. Total expansion will net more than 1,000 new beds.

"The Republican legislative program was designed to treat and cure the mentally ill so they can return as quickly as possible to society—rather than being confined to our state institutions for lengthy periods of time," said House Speaker George M. Van Peursem (R-Zeeland).

"We have a mental health program we can be proud of."

Van Peursem, a legislative veteran who has risen to his top position after a long career in the Michigan House of Representatives, said the program was designed to treat and cure the mentally ill so they can return as quickly as possible to society—rather than being confined to our state institutions for lengthy periods of time.

ation of leadership, has been designated as the party's spokesman for the House.

Some party spokesmen indicate strongly that the young lawyer from Zeeland is a fast-rising star in partisan politics and could be tapped for higher state office—maybe, for governor.

It was Van Peursem's interim committee on labor which last summer exploded the battle over whether Gov. Williams' tax ideas were forcing business and industry out of Michigan.

The theory then, as now, was that "business" and industry are paying their limit in state taxes. Williams' proposed six-per cent corporation profits tax would tip the scales, they said.

The issue boiled along through the summer and fall, until industrial leaders including Harlow Curlee, president of General Motors publicly stated his position.

He said that his corporation is considering expansion in other states rather than in Michigan partly because of the tax structure.

Political experts saw the rising attack on Williams since he took office in 1949.

Whether or not it was, leaders of both parties are keeping in mind that Van Peursem was one of the early leaders in the fight.

What has happened to Van Peursem since has done nothing to dim his rising political star.

Michigan's new Democratic highway commissioner, John C. Mackie, has found himself bound by some of the commitments made by his predecessor, Charles M. Ziegler.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled the day after Mackie took office July 1 that bond issue money raised for limited-access expressways cannot be diverted to any other purpose.

This was a legal blow to Mackie, whose platform was to start afresh with the new funds available in Michigan.

The net effect will force the new commissioner to finish many of the jobs already started by Ziegler—some of the projects under heavy criticism from Democrats.
